S. Viets Launch Drive On Cong

Elsewhere Politics Slow War

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two regiments of South Vietnamese launched a drive today against a Viet Cong base camp 72 miles southwest of Saigon, a Vietnamese army spokesman announced.

Elsewhere, the war slowed to a near halt while South Viet Nam was rocked by dissident army elements and Buddhists in the northern provinces.

It appeared too early however, to tell how much the internal political turmoil would cut into American and allied action against the Viet Cong.

The Vietnamese army spokesman said two regiments of the 9th Vietnamese Division — about 3,000 men — began a drive at dawn aimed at destroying a Viet Cong base camp. The spokesman said the regiments were bolstered by units of armored carrier personnel and rangers but gave no indication of their size.

He said that toward noon the government forces met light Viet Cong resistance, possibly at the outskirts of the target base camp. They killed 32 guerrillas and seized 25 weapons while suffering light casualties of their own, the spokesman said.

The Vietnamese forces reported taking a 20-bed hospital and a Viet Cong arms-making ordnance shop. The spokesman said the operation was continuing.

U. S. Air Force B 52 bombers again struck at a Viet Cong base camp and storage area today, 70 miles north of Saigon. This was the second time in as many days the eight-engine bombers hit the same target area near the Cambodian border in Binh Long Province.

In another action, the Viet Cong sent mortar fire against the Tay Ninh city airstrip before dawn but the shelling was minor.

A Vietnamese army spokesman said the enemy lobbed three rounds of 60mm mortar on the airfield, 54 miles northwest of Saigon, wounding two persons but failing to damage any of the light aircraft on the field.

The internal unrest in the northern provinces which erupted Sunday overshadowed the war effort. Military sources said it was too early to assess its effects. They pointed out that the ground war against the Viet Cong already has slowed down for more than a month, from the time of the Buddhist upheaval of late March and early April.

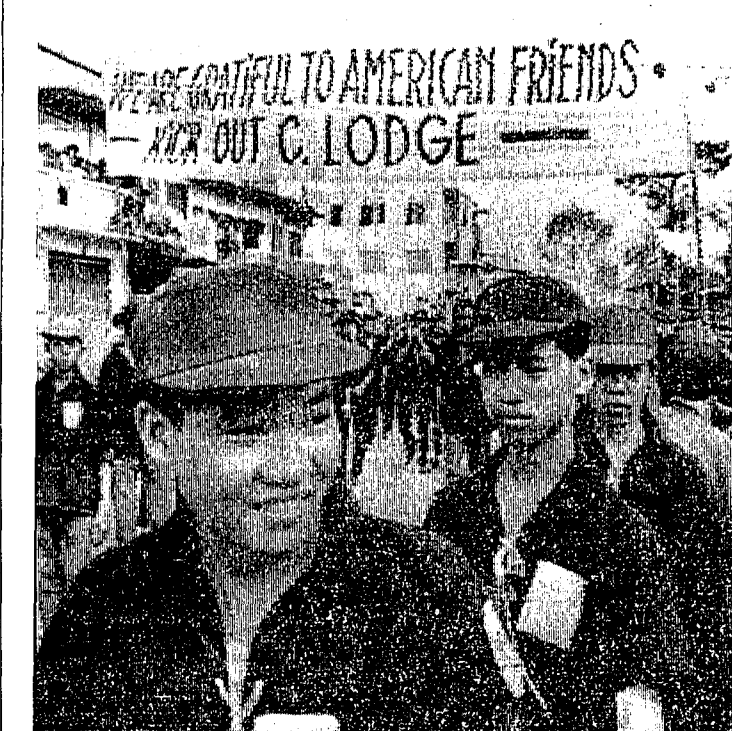

ERIC Will Soon Be Ready With Answers

By GEOFFREY GOULD
AP Education Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is cranking up a new kind of clearinghouse for educational research information, using the most advanced electronics to make the data available to all.

The system, called ERIC, for Educational Research Information Center, will rely on 12 specialized clearinghouses around the country to judge the material in each of a dozen fields. Information from the clearinghouses will be fed into the U. S. Office of Education in Washington for centralized indexing.

Two of these clearinghouses already are in operation. One covers vocational and technical education at Ohio State University and another deals with preparation of school personnel, located at City University of New York. All 12 are expected to be operating by September and in full swing by 1967 — at a cost of about $2 million.

Lee G. Burchinal, in charge of ERIC, said each of the clearinghouses will be manned by two

CHIANG TO BEGIN SIXTH YEAR AS PRESIDENT FRIDAY

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chiang Kai-shek begins his fourth six-year term Friday as Nationalist China's president. Taking office beside him will be an economics expert whom Chiang himself chose as his heir apparent.

The vice president-elect, C.K. Yen, will be the first nonmilitary man to hold the office.

Yen is now premier. The last vice president, Chen Cheng, died in March 1965, and since then there has been no constitutional successor to Chiang.

Chiang at 78 is in good health and leads an active life. His last serious illness was in 1962 when he underwent prostate surgery.

Chiang passed over a number of his contemporaries to select a younger man, Yen is 60. He was also chosen because of his proven ability as an administrator and economic expert.

Proposes Token U.S. NATO Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield proposed today that the United States withdraw all but a token force of U. S. troops from Europe as part of the realignment of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defenses.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview he hopes the Johnson administration will recognize the change in status in Europe and seek some compromise with President Charles de Gaulle in France's scheduled exit July 1 from NATO.

Out of such negotiations, the Montana senator said, could come a sizable reduction in the six American divisions and supporting forces now in Europe.

"In view of the economic rehabilitation of Western Europe and the reduced threat of Russian aggression, I believe it is time for us to insist that the European nations themselves take on the primary military and financial responsibilities for their defense," he said.

In another development, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said he expects the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to hold public hearings soon on U. S. policies in Europe.

Rusk has made clear the Johnson administration hopes to reorganize Europe's defenses without France, if that becomes necessary.

Despite the military manpower needs in Viet Nam, the administration opposes reducing U. S. forces in Europe because of its possible effect on West German stability.

But Mansfield, in the interview, described the European problem now as "more psychological than military."

Draft Deferment Test Takers Say 'Cinch For MIT'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the 400,000 students who took the national draft deferment examination have a tip for those taking the test later: bone up on your science and math.

Those are the subjects they said were found most frequently during the three-hour, 150-question exam. It was administered Saturday at 1,200 colleges and universities in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone.

The results will be forwarded to local draft boards to help them determine whether the students can stay in school or be drafted into the armed services.

Another 600,000 youths will take the test May 21, June 3 and June 24.

"The examination would have been a cinch for fellows at MIT or any other technical school," said Harvey Stein, 23, a student at Hastings Law School in San Francisco. "But I'm afraid it wasn't for me. I was a history major."

Although they said the examination was easy, two City College of New York students — Peter Gwandtner and Al Samuel — said it was science-oriented, even in the reading comprehension and verbal analogy sections.

POPE DISPLEASED WITH BLOCKING OF VISIT TO POLAND

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says the reasons given by Communist Poland for blocking his planned visit there earlier this month "are not justified."

The pontiff said Sunday that the Warsaw regime's decision, preventing him from making a pilgrimage to Poland May 3, had caused him "deep displeasure."

In a speech closing the Vatican celebration of the 1,000th anniversary of Christianity in Poland, the Pope also defended Polish primate Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński against Communist charges of political meddling.

The pontiff had been invited by Cardinal Wyszyński to come to Poland to help celebrate the millennium of Polish Christianity. The Polish hierarchy had hoped he would be able to preside at ceremonies at Czestochowa, climaxing the celebrations.

But late in March the Warsaw government said such a visit, which would have been the first in history by a Pope to a Communist land, would be "inopportune."

11 Killed On Illinois Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents on Illinois roads and highways over the weekend took at least 11 lives.

Four persons were killed in two accidents, one Sunday and the other Saturday.

Mrs. Melissa Angelo, 73, was killed Sunday night when she was struck by a police car on Chicago's South Side. The driver, patrolman John Blager Jr., was not charged.

Earlier Sunday, a car struck a utility pole on Chicago's South Side and the passenger, Patrick Kozak, 24, Chicago, was killed. Rosemarie Kosciolok, 21, Chicago, the driver, was injured.

A Chicago man, Gregory Grubick, 20, was fatally injured Sunday after being thrown from a car which struck a bridge abutment on Interstate 55 twelve miles southwest of Joliet.

An auto collision Sunday on Illinois 92 west of Milan resulted in the death of two motorists: Kelsey Gosa, 21, Andalusia, and Mrs. Emile Hodges, 41, of Rural Milan.

Mrs. Charles A. Yuskis, 56, Silvis, was killed in an automobile collision Sunday south of Moline.

In accidents Saturday: Jackie Starkey, 19, McLean, was killed when a car in which he was riding struck a culvert two miles south of the Gardner overpass on Interstate 55.

Mike Walton, 20, Prospect Heights, and Robert Szatran, 19, Mount Prospect, were killed in the collision of a car and the motorcycle on which they were riding in Mount Prospect.

A Chicago boy, David Lasenby Jr., 6, was killed in an automobile collision on the city's South Side. Police said David was thrown through the windshield of a car driven by his father, David Sr., 26.

Mrs. Floyd Koffman, 48, of West Frankfort was fatally injured late Sunday in a two-car collision during a thunderstorm on Illinois 37 near Mount Vernon. Her husband and three other persons were seriously injured.

Nixon Boosts De Gaulle, Hits British Trading

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon boosted France's NATO stand, knocked Britain's trade with Communist nations and lashed out at the "appeasement wing" of the Democratic party Sunday night.

President Charles de Gaulle "doesn't happen to be all wrong about NATO," the former vice president told a news conference.

France's projected withdrawal from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is impelled, Nixon said, by notable advances in its military and economic strength compared to its position when NATO was founded in 1949.

Any talks by the allied powers on the future of NATO should include De Gaulle, Nixon said and added:

"You cannot have an Atlantic alliance without France."

The Republican party, Nixon said, wants a complete reevaluation of NATO and will demand that any "new setup be based on the new power balance."

Nixon's remarks on foreign aid came in a speech delivered at a fund raising banquet for Rep. William L. Springer, R-Ill. If Britain expects American help in dealing with the rebel regime in Rhodesia, Nixon said it should stop trading with North Viet Nam and Communist China.

Crackdown Arouses LBJ, Aides

Near-Crisis Air

Pervades Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called top military and diplomatic advisers to an afternoon session today to go over the Vietnamese crisis developing over Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's crackdown on Buddhist dissidents.

Ky's action took Washington by surprise. The State Department said there was no advance notification to the United States.

The administration ordered American officials to use all possible efforts to bring together the rival South Vietnamese factions.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson would be seeing his ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara during the afternoon.

Meyers said the session has been on the books since last Thursday, one of a series involving these key men.

Asked what the posture of the U. S. government is in the light of what is happening in Viet Nam now, Moyers told reporters, "I wouldn't want to characterize it."

Officials said Sunday they did not have advance knowledge of the crackdown and no American units were involved. "There was no prior consultation with American authorities," State Department press officer Marshall Wright reported.

Held In Killing Of German-Born Wife, Soldier

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Police say a decorated Army veteran who returned from Viet Nam recently has been charged with murder in the shooting death of his German-born wife and a Peoria, Ill., soldier in the bedroom of the veteran's trailer home.

Spec. 5 Frederick L. Devereaux, 26, a medic and holder of the Bronze Star and the Air Medal, faces a preliminary hearing today.

The victims were his wife, Karin, 24, slain on her 24th birthday, and Spec. 4 John R. Arnold, 19, Peoria, married and the father of two young children.

State police inspector Richard Kelly said Devereaux arrived at the trailer near Ft. Dix shortly before 9 a.m. Sunday.

Miss Vera Diederichmann, 20, a sister of the slain woman and a postal clerk at the Army base, was in the trailer's living room with another soldier, Kelly said.

The three Devereaux children — Debbie, 5, Sonia, 4, and Thomas, 8 months — were in another part of the trailer.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers said today that adults must blame themselves for giving adolescents too much power and not enough responsibility.

"It is we who have invited our young people to dwell for seven years or so in an unreal and hence unwholesome world of their own, a world that too often has little relation to the adult world."

155 On Ship Aground In Giant Waves

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Irma drove a small Filipino inter-island ship aground off Cebu Island today and the situation of about 155 persons aboard was described as critical.

Giant seas lashed the 740-ton inter-island steamer Pioneer Cebu and kept rescue ships from going to her assistance. Reports from the area said the center of Typhoon Irma, with 80-mile an hour winds, was almost directly over the ship.

A spokesman for the ship's owners said the exact number of passengers aboard was unknown, but he thought there were about 100 with a crew of 55.

A radio operator at Philippine President Lines in Manila said the ship was aground on a reef off the northern tip of Cebu and in a "critical condition."

"We picked up the SOS this morning. The radio operator on the ship said the seas were huge and threatening to capsize the ship," he said.

300 Get Holiday Due To Sit-In At Chicago U.

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 300 administrative employees were given a holiday today by the University of Chicago as sit-in demonstrators occupied the university office building, but classes were held and attended as usual.

The university administration was target of a protest action by 350 rebels who object to the school's policy of supplying Selective Service officials with grades and class standings of male students who request it.

A token sit-down group of 25 maintained its vigil in the first floor lobby of the six-story university administration building. Most were in last week's force, which invested the building Wednesday and barred university employees from it Thursday and Friday. The demonstration group was cut to token size Saturday.

Only telephone operators were on the job throughout the protest occupation.

The token sit-down crews did their lounging in three - hour shifts during the days, and long overnight stints, which were maintained during the weekend.

A spokesman for the university administration said that secretaries, controller's clerks, payroll workers and registrar employees were told not to report to their offices today.

Earlier, students in the sit-down group told reporters that no further efforts would be made by demonstrators to bar university employees from their jobs.

SKI-MASKED ROBBERS
LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — A ring valued at $1200 has been taken in the robbery of a prominent couple by three armed men wearing ski masks.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Goss III, told police Sunday the men surrounded their auto when the Gosses drove into their garage.

After forcing the Gosses from their car the robbers handcuffed them to another car parked in the garage and took Mrs. Goss' diamond ring.

Goss is vice president of a toy manufacturing firm.

Buddhists Demand Pull-Out

Crisis Threatens Election Plans

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Buddhist leader, ship demanded tonight that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime pull its troops out of Da Nang where they have taken control of the city's key centers in an attempt to bring dissident northern provinces back under Saigon's authority.

But the gulf between the North and Saigon appeared to deepen. The new crisis cut into the war effort against the Communists and threatened plans for civilian elections in the fall.

Buddhists in Saigon announced that "all monks" are ready to die for their cause. Their spokesman, Thien Minh, charged in an emotional speech that "there is a plot to assassinate all Buddhists."

In Da Nang, where an uneasy calm prevailed throughout the day, Buddhist supporters piled firewood in apparent preparation for threatened immolation by monks.

Minh demanded the government withdraw its troops from the North and "find an immediate solution" to restore civilian rule.

Minh said there were eight killed, 52 wounded and 12 arrested in Sunday's Da Nang fighting. There was no official confirmation. Other reports said five were killed.

In Saigon, Viet Cong terrorists capitalized on the new civil strife by attacking four police points in the capital's suburbs, apparently in a drive to spread the disorders. The capital itself was hit by the first phases of a strike that hit mostly at public transportation and port facilities. It threatened the city's electric power and water supplies.

Ky fired his military commander in the northern provinces, Gen. Ton That Dinh, because he protested the government decision to send troops secretly to Da Nang.

As the military junta pressed ahead with efforts to reassert its authority in the north, the United States was reported to have warned the ruling generals (Continued On Page Seven)

Valachi Book Held Up

Doubtless a good case could be made for the Federal Bureau of Prisons rule forbidding publication of books dealing with a prison inmate's criminal career or life history. In the absence of such a rule, men jailed for their crimes might be able to profit handsomely from sensational yarns about the underworld. That might tend to undermine the value of the prison and correctional system.

There is something to be said, however, for not making this regulation absolutely inflexible. Under some circumstances, published disclosure of details about a notorious criminal's life could serve a useful purpose.

These thoughts are prompted by the Justice Department's changing its mind as to the expediency of letting Joseph Valachi publish his memoirs of involvement with the notorious underworld syndicate known as Cosa Nostra. Only a few months ago the department had authorized Valachi, a convicted murderer who testified about Cosa Nostra before a Senate committee, to work with an editor of his choice in preparation of a book manuscript. Now the department has asked a court to bar publication of such a manuscript.

Attorney General Katzenbach says his decision was based on "my determination that, in the light of all the circumstances, publication of the manuscript would be detrimental to law enforcement." This seems a bit strange, considering that such a book's value to law enforcement had earlier been cited by the Justice Department as a reason for letting it be published. It may be that Katzenbach is acting mainly in response to protests from Italian-American groups that publication of the Valachi memoirs would be a slur against those of Italian descent. It would be difficult to justify this act of censorship on such tenuous grounds.

Muck Frustrates Water Efforts

Water pollution in some of the ports of the Great Lakes is so bad that vessels will not even take on boiler water unless it is absolutely necessary.

This is not the fault of the ships, David A. Groh, chairman of the Lake Carriers' Association, told a Senate Public Works subcommittee on air and water pollution. The pollution comes from the cities and industries along the lake shores — or, as a latter-day Longfellow might write, on the banks of the "Itchy-Goosey."

Lake vessel operators and crews are very conscious of the pollution problem, he says because they work on the lakes and drink lake water. Since 1950, every new vessel built on the Great Lakes has included some kind of sewage treatment facility. Since 1960, they have been using a highly efficient bacteriological and oxygen process which actually digests waste.

"Nevertheless," says Groh, "it has been impossible to obtain approval of this system or any other system by the U.S. Public Health Service."

Why not? Simply because "there are no official standards or criteria for waste treatment facilities."

Without some universal standards, there is not going to be much enforcement. Without enforcement, there is not going to be an end to pollution — whether in the water or the air, whether in the Great Lakes or any of the nation's waterways.

What we will have, however, is plenty of talking and complaining.

Dear Ann:

More on Open-Dorm Policy

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to comment on your advice to the college girl who wanted an open-dorm policy so that campus people could deal more realistically with sex. Several of us read it during lunch and we broke up. It was hilarious.

This is not the 17th century, Grandma. Fear of pregnancy no longer prevents the modern female from enjoying sex on the campus — or anywhere else. Birth control pills are readily available, and if a girl becomes confused and does not count the days correctly, she can always get the name of a good abortionist who will help her out for a few hundred dollars.

If the newspapers must print an advice column, they should give the job to someone who is living in the twentieth century. College students "want" an open-dorm policy and if we raise enough hell we will get what we want eventually. So why don't you crawl back into your cave, Annie? — GERONIMO

Dear Geronimo: You don't specify whether you are male or female but your cavalier attitude toward pregnancy leaves no doubt. I've never yet heard of a male who became sterile, crippled, or died at the hands of an abortionist. I've received thousands of letters on this subject and this may come as a jolt to you, Buddy-Boy, but the vast majority of college kids who wrote said something like this: "That flea-brained dame who would like to shut-up privileges in the dorms is not speaking for ME!"

One of the best letters was from a 17-year-old and here it is:

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old girl who plans to enter a university in the Fall. Naturally, I was interested in the letter from the college sophomore who wanted complete sexual freedom and felt that the school should sanction it.

She stated her point of view and now I would like to state mine. I'm not condemning the girl. I have no right to condemn anyone. In fact, the girl made at least one statement I would endorse. She is correct when she says some attitudes and rules about sex are unrealistic and hypocritical. Many adults who wish to impose rigid rules for sexual conduct on college students have a vastly "DIFFERENT" set of rules for themselves.

On the other hand, her letter implied a depressing lack of respect for sex. This was evident in one question on the form she circulated through her dorm: "Are you a make-out or a hold-out?" I would have replied, "None of your business."

I am not sure of all my feelings about sex but I am sure of this: Sex and love should not be separated. Love without sex would be lifeless. And sex without out love would be cheap and empty.

Too many people have destroyed a beautiful thing by jumping in and out of beds with anyone who is available. How can they possibly have respect for sex—even inside marriage? It has no significance, no purpose, no beauty. It is just something to do. It's like using a diamond brooch to open a can of beans. —OAK PARK, ILLINOIS

Dear Oak Park: You are wise far beyond your years. When you graduate from college, if you want a good job, get in touch with me.

Rice, Salt Seizures Jab Viet Cong in the Stomach

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Reports of new MIG fighters in Viet Nam have overshadowed a crucial American-Viet Cong war for rice and salt.

In the past month, U.S. troops have captured from the Viet Cong enough rice to feed 36 battalions of VC troops for more than a year.

In the same campaign, we have captured 233 tons of salt. (Some captures have included quantities of U.S. grains which the Viet Cong had previously acquired one way or another — and considerable quantities of chickens, pigs, uniforms and medical supplies.)

This means that Viet Cong political cadres and guerrilla forces will be forced to spend less time on political organizing and fighting and more time getting the rice and salt they must have.

It means the Viet Cong must bring in more rice from Cambodia.

It means they must raise rice taxes in the territories they control and conduct more rice and salt raids. This will make them enemies among the people.

Recent Viet Cong attacks have centered against food and medicine targets. Usually, of late, when VC units enter a hamlet, the rice, salt and medicine is what they go for. A considerable number of the prisoners now being captured are suffering from hunger.

Men can't fight without salt and food (rice); they can't adequately carry out their political organizing and agitation in the hamlets.

If U.S. and Vietnamese troops can maintain these rice-salt capture levels, we can slow down the Viet Cong as surely as through mauling Ho's North Viet Nam units in battle. (Of course, it takes battles usually to capture the salt and rice.)

The recent large rice-salt captures are unusual because we've been capturing the rice soon after it has been harvested. It will be difficult to do as well in the off-seasons.

A major setback to the Reds came some time back when U.S. forces set up strong bases in the coastal areas of central Viet Nam. These bases were located in major salt-producing regions.

This cut down on Viet Cong access to some major sources of salt.

As the fighting grew in central Viet Nam, the Viet Cong shifted numbers of their troops out of the Delta areas south of Saigon. This left them with less control over parts of these rice-rich regions. This meant less rice for them.

U.S. and Vietnamese troops in some areas have also moved out into the countryside during harvesting periods to prevent the VC from taking over the crop.

What is needed now is to continue to tighten this salt-rice noose.

You'll Probably Never See Used Spaceship Ad

By RONALD THOMPSON

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A space-age classified ad you'll probably never see:

For sale — 1965 model, two-place space capsule, like new, bucket seats, one owner who drove it only to orbit and back, five million actual miles. Make an offer.

Used spacecraft aren't on the market yet. Anyway, not every one needs a space flying machine — at least for the foreseeable future.

And who could afford one? The National Aeronautics and Space Administration doesn't put a price tag on its spacecrafts, but, generally speaking, the two-man Gemini vehicles cost about $25 million each, and the one-man Mercury capsules, about $7.5 million.

NASA has a growing stockpile of once-flown spacecrafts. The agency has launched 16 manned and unmanned capsules.

Though structurally sound, officials choose not to fly them again.

Most of the vehicles have found their final resting places in museums or display rooms. Some are taken on tours in the United States and abroad.

Officials advance several reasons for not wanting to rocket a man into space aboard a second-hand capsule. In the long run, they say, it is cheaper to build a new one.

Some of the drawbacks: Each vehicle is tailored for a specific mission. Some instruments and experimental equipment fitted into one are not on another. Seats are custom built for the individual astronaut.

When a capsule is prepared for re-entry to earth's atmosphere, its equipment and retro-rocket sections are jettisoned away, snipping electrical wiring and fittings.

An overhaul would take too long to maintain the current pace of the nation's space program.

"Freedom 7," which took the first American into space, Navy Capt. Alan B. Shepard Jr., and "Friendship 7," which Marine Col. John H. Glenn Jr. flew on America's first orbital trip, are at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is a flashy, ambitious man, and apparently crafty. It's the crafty bit which seems to have taken President Johnson's administration by surprise over the week-end.

Ky just did what he backed away from doing a few weeks ago. He sent his troops into South Viet Nam's northern city of Da Nang to take over. The reason seems clear: the chance for success looks better now than then.

Early in 1965 Ky gagged when offered the job of youth and sports minister in Viet Nam's government. He was commander of the air force and he didn't want to give up that job for the other. He was assured he could have both.

So he accepted the ministerial job, too, and about six months later hit the jackpot when the generals took over the government and he was made premier.

This might have seemed — and in the end may turn out that way — like just one more government in a long line. Nine governments had come and gone since President Ngo Dinh Diem was thrown out and killed in 1963.

But Ky, as Sunday's events showed, wasn't the type to give up easily even though at the time he may have seemed to accept adversity rather meekly.

His turmoil began last March when he forced a showdown with a rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, who was thrown out of the military junta and out of command of the northern provinces where he had close ties with the Buddhists.

Monks and students in Da Nang in the north, and elsewhere, demanded the reinstatement of Thi. They demonstrated against Ky's government.

Under this pressure Ky promised a constitutional convention and elections to create a civilian government. But he finally got fed up with the rumpus and flew 4,000 troops to Da Nang's air base April 4.

Then he decided not to use them against the city. The rumpus gradually quieted down; at least it lost its intensity. In view of what happened Sunday Ky must have figured April 4 was not a good time to use troops.

But it was only a temporary yielding.

Drawing up a constitution with a constitutional assembly and preparing for U.S. elections will take time. And recently Ky announced he would stay in office another year.

Further, he said, if the people elected a neutralist or Communist government the army would fight. The Buddhists mulctured but this time there was no vast outpouring in protest.

And Sunday Ky went through with what he had stopped short of doing before. He airlifted military forces to Da Nang. After a fight they took the city.

It was all done so quickly the Johnson administration disavowed any advance knowledge of what Ky had in mind. He acted while Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, was here conferring with Johnson.

Although the administration in Washington ordered U.S. officials in Saigon to press for a peaceful solution, this may be wishful thinking in a disorderly country like Viet Nam.

These past few weeks gave Ky time to rally his forces, figure the strength and weakness of his opponents, and take care of any fences which needed mending before he acted, as he did Sunday.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Swimming is Both Healthful and Enjoyable

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(First of two related columns.)
It will soon be time to get the family swimming suits out of storage. Swimming is both healthful and enjoyable yet many needless drownings occur every year.

Because most of these are caused by panic, you should never allow your child to swim out over his depth until he has learned to float on his back. Teach him also that he must never swim alone or in unsupervised areas.

The first thing he should learn after he has mastered the fundamentals of swimming are the principles of lifesaving, including mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Scientists have had a second look at the old bugaboo about swimmer's cramps. Many persons go on swimming within a few minutes after eating without getting cramps. If they do get cramps these are caused by cold or fatigue rather than by food in the stomach. The important thing your child should remember if he does get a cramp is not to panic. He should take a deep breath, then while floating face down, use both hands to massage the cramped leg or foot.

Although trained distance swimmers "swim in water for several hours at a temperature of 60 degrees or lower, most swimmers should not attempt to do so for more than a few minutes. This precaution is because, in addition to causing cramps, cold water saps the swimmer's strength."

Your child should get out of the water if it makes him shiver or feel numb, weak, dizzy or nauseated. If you see his lips turning blue make him come ashore.

Q — My 1-year-old son eats with his left hand. Is it harmful to try to teach him to use his right hand? Is left-handedness inherited?

A — There are several theories about the cause of left-handedness. Heredity may be a factor but there is no definite proof of this.

The preferred treatment is to try very gently to get your son to eat with his right hand but don't insist or nag him about it. If he still prefers to use his left hand you must remind yourself several times a day that an emotionally well-adjusted lefty is better than a frustrated right-hander.

Since more children are now being allowed to follow their natural bent in this matter, being left-handed is not the handicap it was 50 years ago.

We, the Women

It Might Be Practical, but It Will Never Sell

By Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The latest thing in women's dresses (not yet available except by direct mail order) is a shift made of disposable paper meant to be worn and then thrown away.

Well, women finally went for the sack when the designers quit calling it that and started calling it a shift. But something tells me they aren't going to go overboard for a PAPER sack, no matter what it's called.

Not that it wouldn't be convenient to have throw-away dresses that cost no more than sending an ordinary dress to the dry cleaners.

But, for women, clothes are more than a cover-up. They are also a means of self-expression and a status symbol.

The woman who likes clothes may complain about what a chore shopping for them is. But actually she gets a great deal of satisfaction out of co-ordinating a wardrobe and deciding how to work last year's leftovers into this year's purchases.

For women to whom clothes are a status symbol, labels are the big thing. They don't feel well-dressed unless the labels inside their clothes are impressive ones. And the more they pay for a dress, the happier they are wearing it, for they know that other women can pretty much guess the cost.

So all most women would get out of an inexpensive little throw-away shift would be a cover-up. And that's just not enough for a woman.

She could, conceivably, pick up those paper sacks at the super market—and what fun would that be?

No, for all they might deny, it—women enjoy making a big thing out of putting a wardrobe together and keeping it up to the minute. The time they spend on this—and the money—they consider to be well-spent. Dressing in paper sacks would be just too easy and uncomplicated.

Main Course Salad

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Cooked beef from the day before can make a delicious return engagement. Try serving it cold, thinly sliced, with an assortment of relishes, plus potatoes or spaghetti and a vegetable or, for a change, try this julienne beef salad. It makes a complete luncheon, is different and very pleasant eating.

The recipe for beef slices with caper sauce is very good, too.

Julienne Beef Salad

(Serves 6)

3 cups cooked roast beef, cut julienne-style
1 package (10-oz.) frozen peas, cooked and drained
1 cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons capers
½ cup diced Cheddar cheese, if desired
½ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¾ teaspoon salt
3 hard-cooked eggs
1 tablespoon finely sliced green onion
Lettuce
6 pitted, ripe olives
6 2-inch-long carrot strips
Combine roast beef, peas, celery, capers and cheese. Chill. Mix together oil, vinegar, mustard and salt. Chop eggs finely and add to oil-vinegar mixture. Add onion. Chill. Just before serving toss meat mixture with vinegar-oil mixture.

Beef Slices With Caper Sauce

(Serves 4 to 6)

1 pound thinly sliced cooked beef
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
2½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons vinegar
1 small onion, thinly sliced
¼ cup capers
Melt butter or margarine and stir in flour. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in salt, pepper, sugar, paprika and vinegar. Place beef slices, onion and capers in sauce and spoon sauce over meat. Simmer mixture until thoroughly heated.

blue chip industrials stood at 333.69 at the close of trading in April. At the final bell Friday the 13th of May the average had slipped to 376.11.
The two-week's drop of 57.57 points, or 6.1 per cent, has been called everything from a technical reaction from some tentative gains made in April, to an emotional upset brought on about equally by cuts in auto sales and production and by talk of inflation sparking higher taxes. Traders feared heftier tax rates would mean lower profits, after the first quarter's spectacular climb.
Those who lost money, or saw their paper profits shriveling, won't be pleased. But in Wall Street many brokers call the cooling down of the speculative stock boom a blessing. This not only could give the general market a firmer base. It also could ward off criticism, and possible regulatory action by government agencies.
Washington economic planners are known to have been worried by the rise of speculation—apparent both in the price increases of the glamor stocks, and in the record volume of trading. Those planners welcome the cooling down in the first half of May.
Many of the officials also are far from dismayed by the signs of a slowdown in the general economic pace. They dub as welcome such things as the current hesitation in the auto industry, leveling off of home building, trimming of plans for capital spending by industry, and the first signs that consumer spending itself may be calming down although holding to a high level.
The part that the stock market dip plays in this cooling down is largely psychological. Hopefully, it could keep the economy from getting frenzied.
Actually, the economic planners in Washington and most of their critics in banking circles are agreed on the desirability of further, but moderate, growth in the economy in general. They differ in that the critics think the pace already has become too rapid and the administration holds that so far this is far from a proven thing.
The slowdown in many sectors at the moment—with the stock market acting as the symbol—helps the official economists to argue that all could be working out for the best. Some critics, especially among bankers, may still be unconvinced. And those who lost money in the stock market won't be happy.
But at mid-May there's a different look to many things than a month ago.

Polly's Pointers Special Effort Pays Off

By POLLY CRAMER
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for those homemakers who stay in their robes until noon. Getting up half an hour earlier in the morning can really make your day and put you steps ahead if you spend that time dressing from hose to hairdo including make-up and a touch of cologne. You will look so much better that it will improve your disposition. Your family will love you for it, which is a priceless return for that special effort.—SUSAN

 DEAR POLLY — When my slacks or skirts are too tight in the waist, but a good fit otherwise, I sew a piece of elastic on the end of the waistband that has the button and then reseat the button to the elastic. —M. A.
 DEAR POLLY — The spool spindle on my sewing machine is only one-and-a-half inches long. I use the 1,000-yard spools of thread which measure two-and-a-half inches so I had trouble with the spool wobbling, especially when I filled the bobbin. I remedied this by sliding a drinking straw over the spindle and cutting it to the required length. —EDITH

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is a word of warning. Please when cleaning old medicine out of the medicine chest empty it down a drain or some place where a child cannot get it. This came to mind when I saw some boys pulling old medicine bottles out of a trash can so they could play doctor. —MRS. A. W.
 You are so right, Mrs. A. W., for often we discard things without really thinking what may happen to them. A reminder such as yours will alert all of us. —POLLY
 DEAR POLLY — For a baby shower I painted a clipboard and decorated the top with daisies. As gifts were opened donors were listed, attached to the board and given to the mother-to-be for later use in

When your partner has been able to describe his hand to you and you jump to game you expect him to pass. In other words, you have told him that you want to play game and nothing more.

When your partner has not limited his hand the jump to game has a far different significance. It implies that you want to play game if partner holds the minimum that he has indicated but are willing to go higher if he has something in reserve.

South's two spade bid was a force to game and did not give anything like a complete picture of his hand but it gave North a chance to describe his hand perfectly and North did just that by his jump to four hearts.

In the language of bids let's see just what North said when he jumped to four hearts. The message was, "Partner, I heard your two spade bid. We are going to game in any event and while my hand is minimum in high cards I have a self-sufficient heart suit of at least six cards. If that is enough for a slam, go ahead and bid it."

South decided that it was enough for a slam. It might even be enough for a grand slam in case North held the ace of diamonds in addition to his good hearts so South used Blackwood to check the aces.

When North showed only one ace, South made a very fine decision and bid six notrump. It was just as well that he placed the slam there. A diamond opening by East would beat six hearts two tricks. The bad spade break would set six spades but in six notrump, South had 12 easy winners against any lead.

Pappas Now Has Look Of Winner

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Milt Pappas spotted Frank Robinson 400 points, but he's not worried. He figures he has until 1968 to catch up.

Actually, at his present pace, Pappas won't need that much time to pull even with Robinson. The Cincinnati pitcher sliced another chunk off the Baltimore slugger's lead Sunday, gaining his third straight complete game victory as the Reds whipped Chicago 9-2.

Pappas and Robinson were the primary players in the winter deal between the Reds and the Orioles, and everyone conceded the better of the trade to Baltimore when Robinson was hitting .400 before Pappas even had won a game for Cincinnati.

But now the 27-year-old right-hander has won three games in 10 days, and he's helped pull the Reds to within three games of the Baltimore Orioles in the American League.

Pappas, however, isn't interested in discussing the merits of the trade.

"It'll take three years before anyone can decide what's what in a deal like this," he said Sunday. But he added:

"The Reds got me to pitch, and I can do that. What happens with Robinson and the Orioles, I have no concern."

Elsewhere in the National League, New York whipped San Francisco 6-1, Los Angeles trimmed Pittsburgh 3-1, Philadelphia stopped Houston 5-2, and St. Louis downed Atlanta 5-3.

In the American, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 2-1 after losing 1-0 in 13 innings. New York swept Kansas City 5-2 and 3-1, Minnesota beat Washington 6-2, Detroit defeated Chicago 8-6 and California edged Boston 5-4 before losing 6-3.

Pappas received solid support from Pete Rose, who rapped three hits, including a three-run double in the fourth inning. Don Johnson, Don Pavletich and Art Shamsky contributed homers to the Reds' attack while Ron Santo connected for the Cubs.

Four-Hits Giants
Rod Gardner stopped San Francisco on four hits, one of them Jim Hart's homer. Ron Hunt triggered two New York rallies, singling and scoring in the first and singling at the start of a four-run outburst in the third.

Don Sutton and Phil Regan combined for a six-hitter over Pittsburgh. John Roseboro and Maury Wills each tripled in a run, and Wills scored on Willie Davis' single.

Philadelphia defeated Houston as Harvey Kuenn singled in the sixth inning and scored the tying run, then singled across the lead run in the seventh. Cookie Rojas added a two-run double in the 8th, insuring Larry Jackson's first victory as a Phillie.

The Cardinals scored two runs in the third inning with the help of Joe Torre's error and went on to defeat Atlanta. Torre dropped Frank Bolling's throw at the plate, allowing Orlando Cepeda to reach third from where he came across on Julian Javier's sacrifice fly.

GAME POSTPONED
The first game of the Quincy Regional between Jacksonville and Jerseyville, scheduled for today, has been rescheduled for Tuesday at 4 p.m. Wet grounds at Quincy caused the postponement.

Seagren's 17' 5 1/2" Vault New Record

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Seagren capped a great Pacific Coast weekend for 19-year-old track and field stars when he soared 17 feet, 5 1/2 inches to shatter the world pole vaulting record.

The youngster's effort came Saturday night at the West Coast Relays in Fresno. On Friday night in Los Angeles, Jim Ryun of Kansas, also 19, posted an American record of 8:25.2 for the two-mile run.

Then on Saturday afternoon in Seattle, Gerry Lindren, the 19-year-old Washington State University sophomore, ran three miles in 12 minutes, 53 seconds, just six-tenths of a second off Australian Ron Clarke's world record.

Lindgren's great run in the Northern Division meet of the Pacific Athletic Conference lowered his own American record. Seagren cleared the cross-bar on his third try at 17-5 1/2 and added the outdoor record to the world indoor mark he owns at 17-0.

Meet officials said Seagren's vault met all specifications for world recognition. Although he appeared to clear the bar by a good two inches, Seagren didn't come close when he had officials' boots: the far to 17-8.

Tired By Vaults
Understandably, he was tired by then. On Friday night he vaulted until nearly midnight in winning the Coliseum Relays at 17-4. Then were four hours of competition at Fresno capped by the record vault.

It was at the U.S.-Russian meet in 1964 that Fred Hansen of Rice cleared 17-4, which wasn't bettered until Saturday night. An American record also fell at the West Coast Relays when 24-year-old Art Walker triple jumped 54 feet, 4 inches. Poland's Jozef Schmidt holds the world mark at 55-10 1/2.

Both Seagren and Walker competed for the Southern California Striders Club in Saturday's meet.

Brigham Young successfully defended its intercollegiate team title with 64 1/2 points to 49 for runner-up New Mexico.

Sixer other meet records fell. Al Oerter threw the discus 195 feet, Randy Matson put the shot 68-8 1/2, John Dobroth high jumped 7-1 1/2, Roy Barrus ran the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:04.4, Ralph Boston long jumped 26-8 1/2, and the USC two-mile relay team won in 7:17.6.

Nebraska Triumphs
In the Big Eight Championship at Columbia, Mo., Charlie Greene's sprint double led Nebraska to the team title and John Perry of Oklahoma State ran the year's fastest half-mile.

Greene, the NCAA 100-yard dash king, smashed a 36-year-old meet record with his 9.3 clocking — best 100 in the nation this year — and won the 220 in 20.8 as Nebraska ended Kansas' three-year conference reign with its first outdoor title since 1950.

Perry sped to a 1:47.7 finish in the 880, clipping two-tenths of a second off the best previous half-mile in the world this year — recorded by former St. John's, N.Y., ace Tom Farrell. Perry nipped teammate Jim Metcalfe, whose 1:47.8 also bettered Farrell's time.

A wind-aided 14.3 clocking by Pat Pomphrey in the 120-yard hur� — best 1966 mark in this country — and victories by Bob Redington in both the mile and two-mile swept Tennessee to its third straight Southeastern Conference crown.

Redington set meet records of 4:05 and 9:11.3 in the two events. Jim Webster triggered the Vols' winning 440-yard relay team and doubled in the 100 and 200.

Manhattan Cops Meet
Manhattan College paced by versatile soph Doc Benjamin, rolled to a 10-sided victory in the Metropolitan Championships at New York. Benjamin won the broad jump at 23-10 1/4, the 120-hits in 15.1, and scored in three other events for a total of 18 points.

Benedict Cayenne and Carver King ran 1-2 in the mile and two-mile, and King lapped Cayenne in the 880, giving Maryland State 24 of its 40 points and the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. championship.

Maryland's powerful team, sparked by double winners Ed Marks, James Lee and Bruce Carson, won 10 of 17 events and captured the Atlantic Coast Conference title for the 12th time.

Marks took the triple jump and broad jump, Leon the 100 and 220, and Carson the 120-yard high hurdles and the 440-yard intermediate hurdles.

Army took the team championship in the 32nd Heptagonal Games at New Haven with Jim Warner, a junior, scoring a double in the mile and two-mile.

Double Title Fight Program Set Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cassius Clay will give London its first heavyweight title fight in 58 years and Jose Torres will risk his light heavyweight crown at Shea Stadium in New York Saturday, all within the space of about five hours.

Clay is rated a 5 1/2-1 favorite to add Henry Cooper, the English champion, to his list of victims in a 15-round match expected to draw a sellout crowd of 46,000 to the open air Arsenal Stadium.

Clay, deeply involved in problems with his draft board at home, has been a subdued figure in London compared to the glibly confident Cooper. He was in 1963. Cooper knocked Clay down in the fourth round of that fight but was stopped in the next round on cuts. That was before Clay won the title.

The Clay-Cooper bout will be beamed live around the world by the Early Bird Satellite. It will be seen in the United States on the American Broadcasting Co.'s Wide World of Sports program from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. EDT. It will be carried on closed circuit TV in Europe to some 40,000 fans.

Torres, making the first defense of the crown he won from Willie Pastrano March 30, 1965, takes on Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., the No. 1 challenger, at the home of the New York Mets.

The light heavyweight scrap, also scheduled for 15 rounds, will be carried on a special live home television network, with the New York area blacked out. A New York station, WPIX, is lining up the special network for the bout due to start at 10:30 p.m. EDT.

Clay reportedly has been guaranteed $280,000 and Cooper $112,000 for their London fight, with extra cash from the ancillary rights. It will be the fourth defense by the 24-year-old former Olympic champ who last risked his title in Toronto March 29 when he outpointed George Chuvalo of Canada.

BROWN ON WAY BACK
CLEVELAND (AP) — "Now, it's a matter of normal healing," Vic Ippolite, the Indians' team physician, said Sunday after an operation on bones around the eyes of shortstop Larry Brown.

Dr. Ippolite said the operation was "a complete success—it worked out beautifully." The Tribe doctor also said he expects Brown back in the line-up before the end of the season, possibly in four to six weeks.

Brown was injured May 4 in New York when he collided with outfielder Leon Wagner as both chased a fly ball in Yankee Stadium. The infielder was operated on Sunday to elevate bones on both sides of his face and to repair part of the cheekbones.

Indians' Stange For Birds Only

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cleveland Indians have a starting pitcher for every day of the week. One of them, however, is strictly for the Birds.

Lee Stange, an odd man in Cleveland's powerful pitching rotation, made his first start of the season Sunday and clipped the Baltimore Orioles' wings for the 11th time in 13 lifetime decisions as the Indians salvaged the second game of a doubleheader 2-1.

The Orioles took the 13-inning opener 1-0, ending a four-game skid, before Stange's complete-game victory gave Cleveland a 3-1 edge in the weekend series and reestablished the Indians' two-game American League lead.

Although blessed with a staff of seven qualified starters at the start of the season, Manager Birdie Tebbets has been able to give only four of them steady work. The brilliance of Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert, Luis Tiant and Gary Bell—top men on the totem pole—kept Stange, Jack Kralick and John O'Donoghue in cold storage.

Stange, in fact, had pitched a total of two-thirds of an inning in three relief appearances—two against Baltimore—before Tebbets called on him Sunday.

Doesn't Take Long
The 29-year-old right-hander proved as effective as ever against the Orioles, setting them down in one hour and 51 minutes—second fastest game in the majors this year. He scattered eight hits, walked none and struck out four.

Stange, acquired from Minnesota in the Jim Grant deal two years ago, was 3-0 against Baltimore last season, with two four-hit shutouts and a 1.62 earned run average in 39 1/3 innings. Overall, he was 8-4 with a 3.34 ERA.

Elsewhere Sunday, the New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 5-2 and 3-1. Detroit outscored Chicago 9-6. Minnesota slugged Washington 1-2, and Boston snapped a six-game losing string by trimming California 6-1.

Army Football Has New Look

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) —

New is the name for Army football — new coach, new quarterbacks, new running star, and a pair of new pass receiving aces.

The Cadets showed their newness, and some, at Saturday night in the annual intrasquad game that climaxes spring practice. Watching from the pressbox roof was Tom Cahill, ending his third full day as Army football coach.

Cahill, West Point freshman coach and the man in charge since Paul Dietzel suddenly departed for South Carolina five weeks ago, was settled on for the head job only Wednesday night.

Saturday night's brightest star was Carl Woessner, a slashing, shifty 200-pound tailback, strong and fast. As a sophomore flanker last fall, he did not carry the ball.

"He was wasted out there," Cahill said.
Two plebes, Jim O'Toole and Steve Lindell, were opposing quarterbacks, switching sides at halftime. Both did a lot of throwing and Lindell kicked two field goals for the Blacks, who beat the Golds 13-9.

"I wouldn't pick one over the other right now, but they're our quarterbacks," Cahill said. "They'll make sophomores mistakes, but the only way they'll develop is by playing."

The two primary targets were Gary Steele, a 6-foot-5, 215-pound plebe, and Bob Szigethy, a sophomore converted to end from quarterback. Steele, who will be Army's first Negro varsity football player, is rated the No. 1 prospect up from the freshman team.

BATTER INJURIES UMPIRE
LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — Baseball umpire Irvin Analla, 50, an Air Force staff sergeant, has been hospitalized for observation after being struck by a disgruntled batter Sunday.

Analla called Lebanon batter Windell Johnson, 23, out on strikes during the fifth inning of an adult league game. The ump was struck with a bat.

Johnson has been taken into custody, but charges have not been filed pending assessment of the umpire's injury.

Willie Horton drilled a single, double and triple, and Al Kaline also had three hits, leading the Tigers past Chicago. Errors by White Sox reliever Eddie Fisher and first baseman Bill Skowron contributed to the last three Detroit runs. Skowron and Gene Freese homered for the Sox.

The Twins came from behind to whip Washington, with Bernie Allen's two-run double in the fourth inning the key blow. Homers by Bob Allison and Zolto Versalles helped pitcher Jim Perry record his first victory.

California erased a 3-2 Boston lead in the seventh inning of the opener on Ed Kirkpatrick's two-run homer and a run-scoring single by Rick Reichardt. The Red Sox pulled out of their tailspin in the second game as Jose Santiago—with a ninth inning assist from Dick Radatz—checked the Angels while Rico Petrocelli delivered two runs with a homer and sacrifice fly.

Yankees Cap Pair
Al Downing, Bob Friend and Pete Ramos pitched the Yankees to their fifth and sixth victories against two losses since Ralph Houk's managerial return. Ramos bailed Downing out of a ninth inning jam in the first game and protected Friend's first AL victory with 2 2/3 innings of shutout relief in the second.

Roger Maris and Bobby Richardson paced New York's 13-hit attack in the opener with three hits apiece. Two unearned runs in the first inning—result of a throwing error by KC third baseman Wayne Causey—proved the difference in a nightcap. Ex-Yankees Rolfe Sheldon and Ralph Terry were the losing pitchers.

Buckeyes Head Big Ten Chase In Final Week
CHICAGO (AP) — Defending champion Ohio State, weathered out of all three of its weekend games, heads the Big Ten baseball pennant chase into the closing showdown.

The key game in the final regular season week end will send Minnesota, second with 9-1-1 record, to Ohio State, 5-0, for a single encounter Friday. Another flag-bearing game has Michigan, third with 6-2, at Michigan State, fourth with 7-3.

In Saturday's finale of doubleheaders for the leaders, Iowa (4-6) is at Ohio State, Michigan State at Michigan and Minnesota at Indiana (5-3).

While Ohio State's twin bill at Purdue was cancelled Saturday by wet grounds, Minnesota and Michigan split and Michigan State defeated Iowa twice.

The Gophers won the opener 5-4 in 12 innings on Steve Schneider's run-producing single. Michigan's Bob Reed took the loss, his second straight after six consecutive Big Ten victories.

The Wolverines handed Minnesota its first conference defeat 1-0 in the nightcap on the two-hit hurling of Jim Lyjyinen. Ted Sizemore singled across the winning run in the third inning.

Michigan State trimmed Iowa 4-2 and 1-0. The Spartans scored twice in the first inning of the opener on three singles and an error. One of the hits was by John Frye, who also drove in a run and scored himself in the eighth after he had tripped.

Dick Kenney pitched a four-hit league record. Tom Staack was the loser, yielding only one hit, a single by Steve Rymal.

Indiana smashed Illinois 16-3 and 9-1. In the first game, the Hoosiers scored 11 runs in the seventh inning on seven hits, three errors and six walks. Jim Stokes, making his first conference appearance for the Hoosiers, drove in seven runs in the two games with five hits, including a double and a triple.

Wisconsin and Northwestern played a rare tripleheader. Northwestern took advantage of three Badger errors to salvage a 5-2 victory in the last game after losing the first two 5-4 and 8-0. In Wisconsin's shutout victory, Dennis Sweeney struck out 11 wildcats in a six-hit job.

Orleans Meet Resumes Today

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) —

The final round of the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament tees up on a thoroughly soaked course today with Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema tied for the lead.

The tournament was supposed to wind up Sunday but a downpour swept the Lakewood Country Club course, washing out all scores, drenching the pros and thousands of spectators.

Nicklaus, in addition to having his only comfortable pair of golf shoes soaked, suffered another stroke of ill luck. While driving to the course he was involved in a minor traffic crash.

"It popped my neck," said the 26-year-old Masters champion. "It hurt me a little bit for awhile but seems okay now. I just hope it doesn't stiffen up on me."

Lema and Nicklaus led the pack into the final round with 208 for 54 holes — eight under par over the 3,020-yard, par-72 course. Frank Beard and Bob Goaly were tied at 209.

Locked at 210 were Gardner Dickinson, Billy Casper and Kel Nagle. Arnold Palmer was forced out of the tournament Saturday due to a wrenched back.

Ky Move

that further turmoil and strife could only help the Communists. Sprawling Saigon remained outwardly calm, but thousands of workers went on strike, slowing down the unloading of vital military cargo in the congested port.

Urgent meetings continued through the day at the powerful Buddhist Institute, where Buddhist leaders considered their next move in the wake of the government's lightning troop moves against Da Nang.

A Buddhist spokesman and former Cabinet minister, Tran Quang Thuan, repeated Buddhist charges that the Ky government had committed treason and violated its pledge of a political truce until fall elections by sending marines and paratroopers north. However, he said the Buddhist leaders had issued orders to their followers to remain calm until the monks issue instructions.

In a special broadcast, Lt. Gen Nguyen Van Thien, chief of state, defended the seizure of key military installations in Da Nang as a blow against Communist infiltration and Buddhist rebels. Thien, a Roman Catholic, called on "every citizen to be aware of the danger to the nation."

U. S. troops kept cautiously in the background, lest the disturbances again take an anti-American tone. But American officials got orders from President Johnson "to make every effort" to encourage the fighting Vietnamese to "title the guerrilla before it erupts into wide-scale civil war and brings a total collapse of the war against the Communists."

Ky dismissed Maj. Gen. Ton and Friday evening at the home of Thien, one of the young military men who took part in the 1963 coup against President Ngo Dinh Diem, after he denounced the secrecy-shrouded prelude to Da Nang in a broadcast from Hue.

Dinh coupled an appeal for calm among the people of the five provinces under the jurisdiction of the 1st Corps with a declaration that the sudden troop movement was carried out without his knowledge and in "violation of Ky's promises."

He urged the junta "not to divide the nation."

Ask LBJ Discuss School Issue In Chicago Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson has been asked to discuss school integration with civil rights leaders during his visit in Chicago Tuesday to address a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

The request was made in a telegram sent Thursday by Albert Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, a civil rights federation.

The telegram said in part: "Your presence here on the anniversary of the Supreme Court's 1954 (school desegregation) decision is an especially appropriate time to address attention of your office to the Chicago school system's oppressive practices of school segregation."

The city's Negro school children have been asked to stay away from classes Tuesday by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

School officials have not commented on the planned boycott.

A spokesman for the SCLC said the "school holiday" would remind the city "that in 12 years a whole generation of students has been lost because the education system . . . has virtually not changed, but gotten worse."

Culprit Frees Vicious Dogs From Pound Area

JERSEYVILLE — Rabies investigator Lawrence Droegge was continuing the hunt here Saturday morning for three vicious dogs which were released from the Jerseyville Dog Pound Thursday night by unknown parties.

"The three dogs were being held under special security precautions," Droegge reported Saturday morning. "All of them were vicious and had bitten people. They were being kept at the end of a long chain leash apart from other dogs in the local pound. Someone released them during the night and either took the chains or left the chains attached to the animals."

Droegge stated that one of the dogs was more vicious than the other two, but that he had to take special precautions when he went in to feed and care for them. They did not hesitate to attack him.

Droegge stated that he believed someone deliberately cut the three loose and did not remove their chains. It appeared that the party freeing the animals had done so from outside the fence of the area where they were being kept.

More than four hundred dogs have been picked up and impounded here since late December. Dog licenses in the City of Jerseyville became due May 1st.

U.S. - Viet

Ky's sudden move against 1st Corps dissidents at Da Nang prompted a near-crisis atmosphere in Washington Sunday as war administration officials met early in the morning and again a few hours later.

President Johnson called in three of his top advisers, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Saigon Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, for a mid-afternoon meeting. The President then flew to his retreat at Camp David, Md., for an overnight stay.

The United States apparently is adopting a hands-off attitude in the new outbreak. From all indications, military leaders are attempting to keep their troops out of the Da Nang troubles.

The State Department quickly announced Sunday that "no American units are involved and there are no American advisers with the battalions of the South Vietnamese government (troops) that were sent to Da Nang."

Wright, in response to a question, also said U. S. advisers with the South Vietnamese 1st Corps troops generally remained with their units, "most of which are facing the Viet Cong."

But he added that "it is possible that the American advisers have been withdrawn from some 1st Corp units in the vicinity of Da Nang." Wright did not estimate the number of advisers pulled out.

Military sources said all U. S. installations in the Da Nang area had gone on full alert and had reinforced their perimeters.

The sources said the new political outbreak in South Viet Nam could have serious military consequences because it comes in the face of a Communist buildup aimed at a new monsoon offensive.

GRAIN PRICES LACK GENERAL TREND

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices showed very little general trend today in transactions in the grain futures market.

Oats and rye were steady to slightly firmer but other grains and soybeans were mixed or easier in moderately active transactions.

Brokers said some of the offerings appeared to have been profit cashing or outright liquidation linked perhaps, with improvement in weather over much of the major corn and soybean-producing area.

Warm, dry weather for a few days, they said, probably could put soil in condition for widespread planting of both crops.

Wheat was 1/2 to 3/4 cent a bushel lower, May $1.61 1/4; corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.27 1/2; oats 3/4 higher to 1/2 lower, May 70 1/4 cents; rye 1/2 to 1 cent higher, May $1.21; soybeans 1/2 to 1 1/4 lower, May $3.04.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Another wave of selling battered stock market prices down to new lows for the year in heavy trading late this afternoon.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 10.2 million shares, compared with 8.99 million Friday.

A feeble early rally faltered and prices began to soften in very dull trading. With no signs of further strength, selling hit the list again.

Prices plunged on a broad front. Texas Instruments lost nearly 14 points, Braniff 9, Fairchild Camera, Johnson & Johnson and Northwest Airlines about 5 each.

SCM Corp., off more than a point, looked like the volume leader.

The decline was attributed by brokers to reports of a growing squeeze on corporate profits and concern over developments in Viet Nam.

The averages sank under big losses by key stocks. Du Pont lost 3, General Motors, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric and Air Reduction about 2 each.

Also down about 2 were Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., Zenith, Raytheon, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Lear-Siegler, Admiral, Motorola, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Joy Manufacturing and Delta Airlines.

Milwaukee Railroad and Continental Airlines sank 4, Pan American World Airways 2.

Down a point or more were General Dynamics, Polaroid, Phelps Dodge, Santa Fe, Schering and Avnet.

Prices declined in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

City police said that they had a report that a man was carrying the cross in the 200 block of West Douglas shortly after two o'clock Sunday morning.

When officers investigated, the suspect hid the cross in an alley near Allied Motor Sales and fled.

Investigation of churches was immediately begun, and a few minutes later patrolmen found that the First Baptist Church had been entered through a back window and the cross removed. Fry marks were evident on the church office door, but entrance was not gained. Nothing else was reported missing from the church.

About 1:30 Sunday morning, a break-in was reported at the MacMurray College little theater at 416 East Court Street. A night watchman discovered that a latch on a back door had been broken to enter the building. Investigating city police said that apparently nothing was missing from the building.

Members of the Melvin Starkey family, which included three children ages, 2-6 years, fled the two-story frame residence shortly after an explosion occurred in the basement.

Witnesses at the scene credited the Jacksonville fire department with saving the building from burning to the ground. Damage to the residence was limited to the basement, the floor of the dining room, and walls of the interior. Several household items were also damaged.

Starkey said he was alone on the first floor when the explosion occurred. "It was like a big gust of air going through the house," Starkey told a reporter.

Starkey's wife, three children and brother-in-law were all on the second floor at the time.

Baptist Church Groundbreaking Services Sunday

In September, 1961 the Lincoln Avenue Baptist church of this city held a daily vacation Bible school and a tent revival on Myrtle street, with the Pastor Rev. Frank Breithaupt as evangelist, and Rev. Leroy Hedrick as song leader.

A mission committee was appointed and a building was rented at Center and Howe streets for regular church services, and it was known as the Northeast Baptist Mission.

The first service was conducted on October 8, 1961 with Rev. Herbert Sierk as mission minister.

Rev. Hedrick became mission pastor on June 10, 1962.

On July 28, 1963, they were organized as the Northeast Baptist church with 34 members. Rev. Hedrick was elected pastor, which position he still occupies. The church became affiliated with the Sandy Creek Association of Baptist churches and the Illinois State Association, and the Southern Baptist convention.

Since November, 1963, the congregation has met in the former Church of God building at 713 North Clay. In May of 1964, the church purchased lots in the 800 block of North Main street on which to build their church, and sold Broadway bonds to complete payment for the lots.

The first unit of the church will be 38 x 80 with a parking lot in the rear, and a drive from North Main, and the exit on North West street.

The church will sell more Broadway bonds starting June 1 to finance the building.

Kenneth Price is contractor of the hall, and concrete floor; and the members and others expect to donate their labor for much of the rest.

The building will cost approximately $30,000.

The building committee is composed of Rev. Hedrick, Rev. E. L. Banta, Edward Breakville, David Slagle, John Griffin and Walter Cully.

The trustees of the church are E. L. Banta, Edward Breakville and Walter Cully. They hope to move into the new building sometime in September.

S. S. Hope is a special project of Federated Junior Women's Clubs. The Jacksonville Juniors, and others in the 20th District, in the Jacksonville area, provide many benefits for the ship. The local club has made hundreds of hospital gowns and also stuffed toys in the past several years.

Since arriving in mid-January, HOPE doctors, nurses and technicians have been working with their Nicaraguan counterparts, sharing their knowledge of modern medical techniques.

A typical month sees more than 1,000 patients treated, 100 operations performed in the S.S. HOPE's three operating rooms and 200 out-patients seen on the ship, docked at Corinto.

Land-based clinics have also been established in the capital city of Managua, the university town of Leon and the remote northern area around Chinandega. Mass immunization and milk distribution programs have been initiated. Classroom instructions are conducted daily at inland schools and hospitals, as well as on the ship.

Since November, 1963, the congregation has met in the former Church of God building at 713 North Clay. In May of 1964, the church purchased lots in the 800 block of North Main street on which to build their church, and sold Broadway bonds to complete payment for the lots.

The first unit of the church will be 38 x 80 with a parking lot in the rear, and a drive from North Main, and the exit on North West street.

The church will sell more Broadway bonds starting June 1 to finance the building.

Kenneth Price is contractor of the hall, and concrete floor; and the members and others expect to donate their labor for much of the rest.

The building will cost approximately $30,000.

The building committee is composed of Rev. Hedrick, Rev. E. L. Banta, Edward Breakville, David Slagle, John Griffin and Walter Cully.

The trustees of the church are E. L. Banta, Edward Breakville and Walter Cully. They hope to move into the new building sometime in September.

One-Car Crash Injures 2 Sunday
Two persons, injured in a one-car accident on Ill. 100, a mile north of the junction with Ill. 104 Sunday afternoon, were transferred from Schmitt Memorial hospital late that night to an Alton hospital.

Authorities identified the pair as Geoffrey L. Harris, 21 of Alton, the driver of the auto, and a passenger, Janice M. Gossling, 20, of Godfrey.

State troopers said that the accident occurred about 6:35 p.m. when Harris, northbound, lost control of his small compact car, and it veered off the road and crashed into an embankment.

Both persons were taken to Schmitt hospital. Miss Gossling reportedly sustained a fractured leg, while Harris sustained lacerations of the arm.

Officers said the incident occurred as Harris was attempting to light a cigarette. Several pieces of the hot ash fell on his arm burning him, and causing him to lose control of the vehicle.

The injured were taken to Beardstown by the Schaefer ambulance.
